THE ALAMODOME

The Alamodome - which had its grand opening on May 15, 1993 - is unlike any other stadium in the world due to its design and versatility. The facility has a cable-suspended roof, a retractable seating system, a flexible floor grid system, formal entries and large food court areas.

The Spurs moved into the Alamodome prior to the start of the 1993-94 season. They kicked off their first year in the facility in grand fashion as an NBA opening night record crowd of 36,523 was on hand on 11/5/93 as the Spurs beat Golden State 91-85 in the first regular season NBA game ever played in the Dome. During the 1993-94 season - including preseason, regular season and post-season - the Spurs drew over one million fans to the Alamodome.

But the Alamodome is used for more than the Spurs. With the addition of the Alamodome, the city of San Antonio is set to become a major player in the sports world. The first sporting event in the Alamodome was the U.S. Olympic Festival-'93, which ran from 7/23/93 to 8/1/93. Since that time the Dome has hosted College Football games, NFL games, NHL games, world-championship boxing and numerous concerts. San Antonio, and the Dome, are now the home of the Builder's Square Alamo Bowl. And more is in line for the future. The 1996 NBA All-Star Weekend will be held in San Antonio in February of 1996, in 1997 the Alamodome will host a Regional Final of the NCAA Basketball Tournament, and the 1998 NCAA Final Four will be held in San Antonio.

The Alamodome has several configurations, ranging from 5,000 seats for small conventions to over 65,000 for major football games. For Spurs games, the Alamodome holds 20,662 on a nightly basis. In addition, for selected games, the Spurs will open the upper level pushing capacity to almost 35,000.

In its basketball configuration the Alamodome features 34 luxury suites and a section of over 3,500 club level seats that provide Spurs fans with a pair of upscale viewing options. The Spurs are the only NBA team to play its entire home schedule in a domed stadium.

The total cost of the Alamodome was $186 million, and thanks to a half-cent sales tax that went into effect in 1989, the Dome will be debt free in its second year of operation.

BRIG. GEN. ROBERT McDERMOTT

CHAIRMAN

General Robert McDermott retired from USAA in September of 1993, stepping down as the company's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. During his 25 years with the insurance and financial services company, Gen. McDermott helped turn USAA - and the city of San Antonio - into what they are today.

"If I had to pick the one individual who has made the most difference over the past 25 years, it would have to be General McDermott," said former San Antonio Mayor Lila Cockrell. "He is the one person we could not have done without."

Today, Gen. McDermott serves as the Chairman Emeritus of USAA and as the Chairman of the San Antonio Spurs. McDermott, and USAA Property Holdings Inc., are two of the 22 investors that purchased the Spurs from Red McCombs on March 26, 1993.

Gen. McDermott joined USAA in 1968. When he became President in 1969, USAA had 2,683 employees and total assets of $207 million. Today, the company has over $33 billion in owned and managed assets and over 16,000 employees. USAA is the nation's fifth largest insurer of private automobiles and the nation's fourth largest homeowners insurer. The company offers its services worldwide and has offices in Frankfurt and London as well as other cities in the United States. In 1993, USAA was named one of the top 10 companies to work for in the best-selling book, "The 100 Best Companies to Work for in America."

Since moving to San Antonio in 1968, Gen. McDermott has worked hard to develop the Alamo City. In 1974, he was elected the Chairman of the Greater San Antonio Chamber of Commerce. Then in 1975, he founded the Economic Development Foundation and served as its Chairman until 1980. Today he serves as Chairman Emeritus of the Foundation, which plays a lead role in bringing new business to the city.

Gen. McDermott has also worked to develop the field of biotechnology in San Antonio, realizing that the field would create a viable economic sector for the 21st century. He founded and serves as Chairman of the Texas Research and Technology Foundation which is developing the Texas Research Park. Along with the University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio, the TRP forms the core of biotechnology for the city. And to help ensure success, Gen. McDermott has been a major force in getting the University of Texas Board of Regents to develop biotechnology facilities in San Antonio and to offer science and engineering programs to the doctoral level in support of biotechnology.

Gen. McDermott is a native of Boston, Massachusetts and has a bachelor's degree from the U.S. Military Academy and an MBA from Harvard. He served in the U.S. Air Force as a command pilot, staff officer and professional educator. In 1959 he was appointed the permanent Dean of the Faculty at the U.S. Air Force Academy by President Eisenhower. He served as Dean for the first ten graduating classes from the Academy. Gen. McDermott retired from the Air Force in 1968.

Gen. McDermott has been recognized nationally for his leadership and success at USAA. He chaired numerous national insurance industry associations including the National Association of Independent Insurers. He has served on the Board of Directors of the Texas Department of Commerce and as Chairman of the San Antonio Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas. He was a founder of the World Affairs Council in San Antonio and served as Chairman of the International Leadership Center Foundation in Dallas. In addition, he still serves as a Regional Vice Chairman of the Center for Strategic and International Studies which is based in Washington D.C..

Gen. McDermott has also been honored with numerous awards. He was inducted into the Texas Business Hall of Fame in 1987 and the National Business Hall of Fame in 1994. A total of five universities have awarded him with honorary doctorates. And numerous national publications, including Business Week, Forbes, Fortune and U.S. News and World Report, have featured articles on McDermott.

Gen. McDermott has five children and thirteen grandchildren.

He and his wife, Marion, reside in San Antonio and Colorado Springs.

JOHN C. DILLER

PRESIDENT/ CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

John C. Diller, appointed the Spurs President/ Chief Executive Officer on May 31, 1994, came to San Antonio with over 25 years of experience in the world of professional sports. In his role with the Spurs, Mr. Diller is responsible for all operations of the franchise - both the basketball and business sides - and serves as the Spurs representative on the NBA Board of Governors.

"I appreciate the opportunity to head a franchise which means as much to its supporters as the Spurs do," said Mr. Diller. "Our fans, our sponsors and our investor group have all joined together to make NBA basketball thrive in South Texas. Other NBA markets may be bigger, but the Spurs will compete with the best of them - on the court, and in the environment which we provide to our fans at our games. I look forward to helping meet that challenge."

Prior to joining the Spurs, Mr. Diller served as the Executive Vice President, Business Operations for the New York Mets. He was the first person ever to serve in that role with the club and was responsible for all non-baseball activities of the franchise. In addition, he served on the Mets Board of Directors.

Mr. Diller started his career as a lawyer with Simpson, Thacher & Barlett in New York before entering the world of professional sports in 1969 when he joined Madison Square Garden as its Vice President for Legal and Business Affairs. At Madison Square Garden he worked with New York's legendary "Mr. Basketball", Ned Irish, one of the NBA's founding fathers. In addition, he served as Vice President of the Knicks during their two NBA World Championship seasons, 1969-70 and 1972-73.

Mr. Diller left Madison Square Garden in 1974 to serve a one-year term as the President of the New York Sports Authority. After spending the next five years in his own communications business practice, Mr. Diller helped found RCTV - a nationally distributed cable television program service - and served as the organization's Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer from 1979-84. He then headed marketing ventures in sports and communications, before re-joining Madison Square Garden in 1987 as President of the Madison Square Garden Sports Group. In that capacity, Mr. Diller served on the Garden's Executive Committee and was responsible for the operation of both the New York Knicks and New York Rangers.

A 1960 graduate of Georgetown University, Mr. Diller received his law degree from Yale Law School in 1963. He and his wife of 25 years, Holly, reside in San Antonio with their three daughters, Raegan, Corey and Mary Clare.

GREGG POPOVICH

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, BASKETBALL OPERATIONS/ GENERAL MANAGER

On May 31, 1994, the Spurs named Gregg Popovich their Executive Vice President, Basketball Operations/ General Manager and - after spending two seasons in Oakland as an Assistant Coach with the Golden State Warriors - Pop is back in San Antonio, where his NBA career started.

Since rejoining the Spurs, Mr. Popovich has made an impressive series of moves, bringing back All-Star forward Sean Elliott in a trade and signing a trio of big-name free agents - Avery Johnson, Chuck Person and Moses Malone. Pop made his final major move of the off-season on August 29, when he named Bob Hill the team's new Head Coach.

Mr. Popovich first came to the Spurs in the summer of 1988, as an Assistant Coach under Larry Brown. During his four seasons in San Antonio, Mr. Popovich established himself both on and off the court. In his second season, during the 1989-90 campaign, the Spurs set an NBA record with a 35-game turnaround from the previous year, finishing with a franchise best 56-26 mark. The next season the Spurs were 55-27 and won their second consecutive Midwest Division Title.

Off the court, Pop made a strong impact in the community of San Antonio. Thanks to his work in February of 1992, the Spurs Drug Free Basketball League was honored with a Daily Point of Light Award from President George Bush.

Mr. Popovich started his basketball career as a player. He played at the Air Force Academy and during his senior season he was the team's captain and leading scorer. Following his graduation in 1970 - with a degree in Soviet Studies - Mr. Popovich served his five-year military commitment. During that time he toured Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union as a member of the U.S. Armed Forces team. In 1972 he was the captain of the Armed Forces team which won the AAU Championship. In addition, Mr. Popovich earned invitations to try out for the 1971 Pan American Team and 1972 U.S. Olympic Team.

Once his playing days were over, Mr. Popovich returned to the Air Force Academy as an Assistant Coach. He spent six years at the Academy before heading to the University of Denver, where he obtained his master's degree in physical education and sports sciences.

In 1979, he was named Head Coach at Pomona-Pitzer College in Claremont, California. He spent eight seasons at Pomona-Pitzer, serving as the team's Head Coach and an associate professor in physical education. During that time - in the 1985-86 season - Pop led the team to its first conference championship in 68 years.

Mr. Popovich was hired by the Spurs on July 20, 1988, shortly after Larry Brown was named Head Coach. He spent four full seasons in San Antonio and then on May 19, 1992, he joined the Warriors staff, serving as Don Nelson's right-hand man, both on the bench and in the front office.

Mr. Popovich - who is a native of Merrillville, Indiana - and his wife Erin, have two children, a son Micky and a daughter Jill.

BOB HILL

HEAD COACH

Bob Hill was named the San Antonio Spurs Head Coach on August 29, 1994, and he brings to the franchise 24 years of coaching experience. This is Mr. Hill's third stint as a head coach in the NBA. He was the Head Coach of the Indiana Pacers for two-and-a-half seasons, from 1990-1993, and served as the Head Coach of the New York Knicks for 66 games during the 1986-87 season. Mr. Hill has a career record of 133-154 as a Head Coach in the NBA.

Mr. Hill, who will turn 47 on November 24, played both basketball and baseball at Bowling Green State University. Following his graduation in 1971 he spent one season playing minor league baseball in the San Diego Padres organization. After being released by the Padres he began his basketball coaching career as an assistant with Bowling Green during the 1971-72 season.

In 1975, Mr. Hill moved to the University of Pittsburgh as an Assistant Coach and remained there until 1978 when he was hired by the University of Kansas. He served as an Assistant Coach at Kansas from 1978-1985.

During the summer of 1985, Mr. Hill was named an Assistant Coach with the Knicks. He spent the 1985-86 season as an assistant with the Knicks. Then, early in the 1986-87 season, he replaced Hubie Brown as the Head Coach after the Knicks started the year with a 4-12 mark. Under Mr. Hill the Knicks went 20-46 to finish the season with a 24-58 record. At the end of the season he was replaced by Rick Pitino.

Mr. Hill started the 1987-88 season as a scout for the Charlotte Hornets and a broadcaster with the New Jersey Nets. Then in February of 1987 he was named the Head Coach of the Topeka Sizzlers for the final 17 games of the 1987-88 CBA season.

Mr. Hill headed overseas during the 1988-89 season, serving as the Head Coach of Vitrus Knorr of the Italian League. He led his club to a victory in the Cup of Italy and to the final four of the Italian League Championship. He returned to the NBA in 1989, joining the Pacers staff as an Assistant Coach prior to the start of the 1989-90 season.

Mr. Hill was named the Head Coach of the Pacers on 12/20/90, replacing Dick Versace. He inherited a Pacer team with a record of 9-16 and under Mr. Hill the Pacers were 32-25 to finish the season with a final record of 41-41. During the 1991-92 season, Mr. Hill led the Pacers to a 40-42 mark and in 1992-93 the Pacers were 41-41. All three seasons he guided the Pacers to the playoffs and in that span the Pacers were 113-108. In the 1991 post-season, the Pacers won an NBA Playoff game for the first time in club history before falling to the Boston Celtics in a five-game series. His .511 winning percentage at Indiana is the second-best career mark in the club's NBA history behind Larry Brown's percentage of .573.

Mr. Hill served as an Assistant Coach with the Orlando Magic during the 1993-94 season, when the Magic posted a franchise-best 50-32 record. He is the tenth Head Coach the Spurs have had since entering the NBA in 1976 and he replaces John Lucas, who resigned on June 9, 1994.

Mr. Hill - a native of Columbus, Ohio - and his wife, Pam, have three sons, Cameron, Chris and Casey. The Hill family now calls San Antonio home, as they bought a house in the Alamo City in October.

SAM SCHULER
DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

The San Antonio Spurs named Sam Schuler their Director of Player Personnel on June 2, 1994. This is the first time in franchise history that the Spurs have had such a position and there isn't a better person than Mr. Schuler to fill the role. He came to the Spurs after spending the previous six seasons with the Golden State Warriors, serving as the team's Director of Player Personnel since 1989.

In his role as the Director of Player Personnel with Golden State, Schuler earned league-wide respect as the Warriors put together a string of successful draft picks that included Mitch Richmond, Tim Hardaway, Tyrone Hill and Latrell Sprewell.

Mr. Schuler first entered the NBA in 1985 as a scout for Don Nelson in Milwaukee. After spending three seasons as a scout with the Bucks, Schuler joined Nelson in Golden State as an Assistant Coach in 1988.

Prior to that, Mr. Schuler spent 20 years as a high school coach and physical education instructor. Seventeen of those years were spent at Oak Creek High School in Oak Creek, Wisconsin.

Mr. Schuler - who is a native of Blanchardville, Wisconsin - received his bachelor's degree in physical education in 1965 from the University of Wisconsin-LaCrosse. He and his wife Jean have three adult children, Kimberly, Scott and David, and they now live year round in San Antonio.

HANK EGAN
ASSISTANT COACH

This season will be the first in the NBA for Hank Egan, but there aren't many Assistant Coaches in the league with more impressive resumes than Egan.

Prior to joining the Spurs on August 31, 1994, Egan spent 23 seasons as a Division I NCAA Head Coach. For the last ten years he served as the Head Coach at the University of San Diego and prior to that he was the head man at the United States Air Force Academy.

During the 1993-94 season he led USD to an 18-11 mark and recorded his 300th career victory. In his 23 years as a Head Coach, Mr. Egan posted a 304-311 record. Mr. Egan was named the West Coast Conference Coach of the year in 1986-87 when he led the team to a school record 24-6 mark and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. That season USD posted the best field goal percentage defense in the entire country, limiting opponents to a .401 field goal percentage for the year while giving up just 60.3 points per contest.

In his collegiate career, Mr. Egan established himself as one of the best defensive coaches in the nation. He was the alternate coach to USC's George Raveling for the 1984 United States Basketball Team and was one of the coaches at the 1984 Olympic tryouts.

Mr. Egan is a 1960 graduate of the Naval Academy with a bachelor's degree in engineering. In 1966 he joined the basketball staff at the Air Force Academy as an assistant junior varsity coach. In 1971 he was named the Academy's Head Coach and he remained in that position until 1984 when he was hired by the University of San Diego.

Mr. Egan and his wife, Judy, now call San Antonio home. They have two adult children, John and Kelly.

DAVE COWENS
ASSISTANT COACH

Dave Cowens joined the Spurs on August 31, 1994, and he comes to San Antonio after enjoying a storybook career as a player in the NBA.

A member of the Basketball Hall of Fame, Mr. Cowens played in the NBA for 11 seasons. In his career he appeared in a total of 766 regular season games, averaging 17.8 points, 13.6 rebounds and 3.8 assists per contest.

Mr. Cowens was a first round pick in the 1970 NBA Draft, selected by the Celtics with the fourth overall choice. He was an instant hit in the league, being named the NBA Rookie of the Year in 1971. He played for the Boston Celtics from 1970-80 and then, after being away from basketball for two seasons, Mr. Cowens spent the 1982-83 season with the Milwaukee Bucks. Mr. Cowens enjoyed his best season in 1972-73 when he averaged 20.5 points and 16.2 rebounds for the Celtics and was named the NBA's Most Valuable Player. During his 10 years in Boston, the Celtics captured a pair of NBA Championships - 1974 and 1976. Mr. Cowens appeared in seven All-Star Games and was named to the NBA All-Defensive team three times.

Mr. Cowens has two previous coaching experiences to his credit. He served as the player/coach of the Celtics during the 1978-79 season, replacing Satch Sanders who was fired early in the year. In addition, Mr. Cowens was the Head Coach of the Bay State Bombers in the CBA during the 1984-85 season.

Prior to joining the Spurs, Cowens served as the Chairman of the Board of the Sports Museum of New England.

PAUL PRESSEY
ASSISTANT COACH

Paul Pressey is back for his second stint with the Spurs. The difference is, this time he will be wearing a suit on the sidelines instead of a Spurs uniform on the court. Mr. Pressey was named one of the team's Assistant Coaches on August 31, 1994.

The last two seasons, Mr. Pressey served as an Assistant Coach with Golden State, working for Don Nelson. He joined the Warriors staff in the summer of 1992 and, after the team suffered a rash of injuries, Mr. Pressey was forced into action. He appeared in 18 games during the 1992-93 season before being able to spend the entire season on the sidelines as a coach in 1993-94.

As a coach, Mr. Pressey uses the skills and knowledge he acquired during his 11 seasons as a player in the NBA. In his career he appeared in 724 regular season games, averaging 10.6 points and 5.1 assists per game. Mr. Pressey was selected by Milwaukee in the first round of the 1982 NBA Draft and spent his eight seasons with the Bucks. On 8/1/90 he was traded to the Spurs in exchange for Frank Brickowski. He played two years in San Antonio before retiring following the 1991-92 season.

Pressey and his wife Elizabeth have four children, Ashley, Angela, Phillip and Paul Jr. The Presseys recently opened a Mieneke Muffler shop in San Antonio.

Now in his seventh season with the Spurs, Mr. Bookbinder manages a 40-person staff in the areas of broadcasting, marketing, advertising, sponsorships, promotions, ticket sales, retail merchandising and game night operations.

During the 1993-94 season the Spurs achieved a franchise-record attendance mark of 1,009,755 fans attending home games in the Dome and ranked second in NBA attendance. The Spurs have been just as prosperous over the airwaves, establishing the most extensive broadcast programming operation in the NBA and a regional radio and television network covering the South Texas Area.

One of Mr. Bookbinder's major priorities has been to get the Spurs deeply involved in the San Antonio community in the areas of education and programs targeted at youth.

"In the city of San Antonio the Spurs have an unequaled platform to help send the right messages and support to our youth," said Mr. Bookbinder. "This is a tremendous responsibility for this organization and a mission the Spurs take very seriously."

Upon his arrival in San Antonio, Mr. Bookbinder created the non-profit Spurs Foundation, an organization designed to give something back to the community. Since its formation in 1988 the Foundation has generated over $1,000,000 for area youth programs. In addition, he worked with area school superintendents to establish Project GOAL which features several programs to motivate students in the areas of self-worth, attendance and drug and substance abuse education. One of the Foundation's programs, the Spurs Drug-Free Youth Basketball League - which attracts over 2,500 youths each year - was honored with a Daily Point of Light Award in 1992 by President Bush. The Spurs' Project GOAL received the 1994 Human and Civil Rights Award from the Texas State Teachers Association.

Born and raised in Miami, Florida - and a 1974 graduate of the University of Florida - Mr. Bookbinder started his career in the sports business in 1976 as the Western Regional Manager for Professional Sports Publications. Since that time he has amassed 14 years of experience in the NBA, serving in top management positions with the Dallas Mavericks, the San Diego Clippers and the Denver Nuggets. LAWRENCE PAYNE
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT/ BROADCASTING

Despite being in one of the NBA's smallest media markets, the Spurs have built one of the most extensive broadcast lineups in professional sports. One of the individuals responsible for this development is the Spurs Lawrence Payne. As the team's Senior Vice President/Broadcasting, Mr. Payne is responsible for overseeing all of the team's broadcasting ventures.

He serves as the Executive Producer of Spurs Broadcasting, the internal organization which is responsible for all Spurs radio and television broadcasts and programming as well as all in-arena Jumbotron video production. This includes Spurs television broadcasts on KSAT, KABB, HSE and Paragon Cable's First Choice Pay-Per-View. On the radio side, every Spurs game can be heard in both English and Spanish, thanks to WOAI and KCOR. Over 250 individual radio and television game broadcasts will be produced by Spurs Broadcasting this season. These broadcasts are also distributed over the Spurs own regional radio and television networks.

In addition to the game broadcasts, Mr. Payne directs the Spurs non-game broadcasting efforts. These programs include the weekly Spurs Report with Head Coach Bob Hill and Spurs Coyote Clubhouse on KSAT, Arriba Spurs on KWEX and "Spur of the Moment" radio vignettes on KTFM.

"I am very proud of how Spurs Broadcasting has grown over the years, but I truly feel our best work is ahead of us," said Payne. "We will produce over 400 broadcasts and shows this season. This type of accomplishment wouldn't happen without the effort of a dedicated group of individuals in our department and outstanding media partners."

But producing Spurs programming is only one aspect of Mr. Payne's responsiblites with the club, he is also responsible for overseeing all Spurs sponsorship sales efforts. The Spurs were one of the first NBA teams to take their sales completely "in-house" and are responsible for the sale of all inventory. Every commercial you hear or see during Spurs games, every sign that you see in the Alamodome or any contest/promotion involving the Spurs is a direct result of the Spurs sales staff's efforts.

Mr. Payne joined the Spurs in July of 1976, after obtaining a bachelor's degree and a law degree from the University of Texas at Austin. Since that time he has moved up the Spurs corporate ladder. In his first three years with the Spurs he was responsible for the team's game program and weekly newspaper. Then in 1979, he moved into the Broadcast Department. Over the next decade, Mr. Payne was the producer for Spurs television broadcasts, handled the day-to-day operations of the Spurs Sports Channel and worked on various other projects. He served as the team's Vice President/Broadcasting from 1989-1993 before moving into his current position in the summer of 1993.

Since joining the Spurs, Mr. Payne has earned several honors, including two national ACE Awards, the Silver Medal at the International Film and Television Festival of New York and several Addy Awards. He was recognized by his peers recently when he was elected as a charter member of the NBA Broadcast Advisory Board which consults and advises NBA ownership on broadcast matters.

Mr. Payne has been married to his wife, Mary, for 15 years. They have two sons, ten-year-old Bryan and six-year-old Will. Payne spends his free time on the tennis courts, and, whenever possible, on the ski slopes with his family.

NOVEMBER RECAP

OVERALL: WON 9, LOST 5 HOME: WON 7, LOST 1 AWAY: WON 2, LOST 4

After getting off to a slow start with a 2-4 record in their first six games, the San Antonio Spurs closed the month with a bang, running off five straight wins and posting seven victories in their last eight starts. One of the big wins in that span was against the Knicks, who lost their first game of the season, 95-90, after seven consecutive wins. The team's emphasis on defense and rebounding paid dividends - the club allowed just one opponent to score 100 points during the month and newcomer Dennis Rodman ended the month as the league's top rebounder with better than 19 per game. The Spurs also showed an improved shooting eye in the latter stages of the month after being plagued by poor shooting in several early games. In its five-game winning streak, the Spurs shot over 50 percent in four games. David Robinson continued to be among the league leaders in scoring and blocked shots and the four-time All-Star had 30 or more points in seven games with a high of 43 vs. Minnesota that was part of his 10th career triple-double (11 rebounds, 10 blocks). Rodman also provided yeoman work on the boards, including a team record 29 rebounds against Minnesota. He grabbed 20 or more rebounds in nine of 14 games. The Spurs appeared to have helped themselves with the acquisition of point guard Negele Knight on November 8, and after he moved into the starting lineup, the club finished with a 7-1 mark in his eight starts. One of the other highlights for the club in November came on opening night when an NBA opening night record 36,523 fans were on hand at the Alamodome to see the Spurs beat Golden State, 91-85.

DECEMBER RECAP

OVERALL: WON 9, LOST 6 HOME: WON 3, LOST 3 AWAY: WON 6, LOST 3

The Spurs enjoyed a successful December, matching their win total of the previous season while posting a 9-6 mark for the month. The club started and finished the month in the same manner - sweeping road trips against Eastern Conference foes. The Spurs opened the month with road wins at Charlotte, Orlando and Philadelphia and finished with successive road wins over Miami and Indiana. However, in between those winning streaks, the team went 4-6. David Robinson continued to post impressive numbers and his effort during the month was outstanding. Robinson averaged 29.0 points, 11.1 rebounds, 4.3 assists, 3.0 blocks and 1.8 steals in 42.6 minutes per game. He had seven games of 30+ points with a high of 46 against Boston. He also had 39 vs. Seattle and 37 against both Philadelphia and Portland. When he scored 39 against Seattle, he also had 15 rebounds, six assists, five blocks and two steals. Robinson also logged his 11th career triple-double in December, scoring 23 points with 10 assists and 11 rebounds at Charlotte. Dale Ellis provided strong support, averaging 17.8 points during the month while shooting 56 percent from the floor and 49 percent from three point range. Ellis also hit the 900 mark for career three-pointers when he connected against Orlando on December 3. Robinson was named the NBA Player of the Week for the period ending December 5.

JANUARY RECAP

OVERALL: WON 11, LOST 3 HOME: WON 7, LOST 0 AWAY: WON 4, LOST 3

Once again, January proved to be a successful month for the Spurs. John Lucas' club posted an 11-3 record overall and a perfect 7-0 mark at home. It was the second straight season the team has been unbeaten at home in January. Since David Robinson arrived five years ago, the Spurs have enjoyed great success in the month, going 55-21 during the period, including a 36-3 record at home. Robinson led the Spurs with a 27.3 average during January and also averaged 11.3 rebounds. Robinson recorded his 12th career triple-double (third of the season) with 27 points, 12 rebounds and 10 assists vs. Minnesota and narrowly missed a quadruple-double by posting eight blocks. Robinson missed two games with a sore knee. Dennis Rodman shattered his own team record with an NBA season high 32 rebounds vs. Dallas on January 22 and he continued to lead the league in rebounding by a wide margin. He had 20+ boards in four games. Dale Ellis provided scoring support for Robinson by averaging 14.9 and continued his climb towards 1,000 three-pointers. He had 961 to close out January. Vinny Del Negro provided another noteworthy highlight by finishing the month with 46 straight free throws. The Spurs defense continued to be among the best in the league. San Antonio limited 11 of 14 foes to less than 100 points in January and the Spurs led the league in scoring defense at the end of the month. Two of the biggest wins were against Atlanta and Phoenix.

FEBRUARY RECAP

OVERALL: WON 11, LOST 2 HOME: WON 6, LOST 0 AWAY: WON 5 LOST 2

The Spurs came within one victory of enjoying their most successful month in club history, finishing with an 11-2 record. One more win would have given the team its best month ever, but the Spurs still finished with the second most successful month in team history. A 10-0 start helped the club set a team record with a 13-game winning streak that ran from January 22 until Utah ended the string on February 23 in double overtime. Again, David Robinson was the key man for the Spurs. Not only was he selected as the NBA Player of the Week for two straight weeks (2/7 & 2/21), but he also became just the fourth player to record a quadruple-double when he scored 34 points, grabbed 10 rebounds, blocked 10 shots and handed out 10 assists in a win over Detroit. Robinson, who averaged 30.7 ppg, 10.5 rpg and 7.2 apg for the month, also recorded a triple-double against Washington when he had 31 points, 14 rebounds and 10 assists and just missed recording two others. Had a 50-point effort against Minnesota on 2/21. Dennis Rodman averaged 18.5 rebounds for the month and had 20+ rebounds a total of six times with a high of 26 against Miami. Vinny Del Negro also set a club mark during the month when he ran his streak of consecutive free throws to 50 before missing at Boston on February 4. Dale Ellis, who averaged 17.5 ppg for the month, continued to close in on the 1,000 mark for career three-pointers and finished the month with 983, tops in the NBA. The league honored Robinson for his outstanding play by naming him Player of the Month for February.

MARCH RECAP

OVERALL: WON 11, LOST 4 HOME: WON 6, LOST 2 AWAY: WON 5, LOST 2

After a somewhat slow start (4-3 in the first seven games), the Spurs finished the month with a bang, winning five straight and seven of their last eight to finish 11-5. San Antonio continued to battle Houston for the top spot in the Midwest Division. A victory over Dallas on March 29 gave the team 50 wins, the eighth time in history that a Spurs club had won 50+ games. Some of the key wins during the month were road wins over Houston, Golden State and Portland, the latter two ended long home winning streaks. David Robinson had an outstanding month, averaging 31.6 points, 11.3 rebounds, 4.8 assists and 3.4 blocks. He hit the 40+ mark three times highlighted by 48 points against Sacramento. He also had 41 vs. the Clippers and 40 points at Houston in the key San Antonio road win. His 36 points led the Spurs to an important come-from-behind win over Orlando on March 6 and he was named the league Player of the Week the next day, the fourth time he won the award this year. Dale Ellis became the first player in pro history to make 1,000 three-pointers when he connected against Sacramento on March 19. Dennis Rodman set a new club single season rebounding mark during the month and went over 1,000 rebounds, for the fourth consecutive season. The Spurs also set a new home attendance mark during March, breaking the record of 658,337 set the last two seasons.

APRIL RECAP

OVERALL: WON 4, LOST 7 HOME: WON 3, LOST 3 AWAY: WON 1, LOST 4

The Spurs suffered their first losing month of the campaign, finishing with a 4-7 record. Despite the record, there were a number of highlights. Foremost was the first scoring title for center David Robinson. Although he trailed Shaquille O'Neal going into the final game of the season, Robinson turned in a superb effort on the final day of the season, scoring a franchise record 71 points in a 112-97 win in Los Angeles against the Clippers. Not only did Robinson shatter George Gervin's club record of 63 points, but it was also the seventh best effort in NBA history. The 71 points were also the most in an NBA game since 1978. Robinson's effort gave him the scoring title with a 29.8 average to O'Neal's 29.3. In addition, the Spurs win on the final day gave them 23 road wins, which was a new club mark, and the 55 season victories was just one shy of the team mark set in 1989-90. While Robinson was grabbing the scoring title, Dennis Rodman also won his third straight rebounding title with a 17.3 average. It is the first time two different members of an NBA team have won those two titles. Rodman finished with a Spurs record 1,367 rebounds. Other highlights of the month were a new season attendance record - 904,167 - and a Player of the Week Award for Robinson in the final week of the season, his fifth of the year.

SPURS-JAZZ GAME-BY-GAME RECAP

GAME ONE 4/28 at SAN ANTONIO SPURS 106-89

The Spurs ran out to a 12-2 lead to start the game and then never looked back. Late in the first half, the Jazz trimmed the Spurs 19-point advantage down to six at 48-42, but the Spurs responded with a 7-0 run to take a 55-42 lead at halftime. The Spurs stayed hot in the second half, at one time opening up a 27-point lead. David Robinson paced the Spurs with 25 points, 8 rebounds and 7 assists and Terry Cummings had a big game off the bench, scoring 18 points and grabbing 10 boards in just 19 minutes. Karl Malone led the Jazz with 36 points and 10 rebounds while John Stockton had just 3 points and 8 assists.

GAME TWO 4/30 at SAN ANTONIO Jazz 96-84

The Spurs looked good early - holding a 24-20 lead after one quarter. But after that things got ugly. The Spurs scored just 9 points in the second quarter - on 2 of 16 shooting - and then 16 in the third - on 3 of 18 shooting. At one point the Spurs went over 16 minutes without scoring a field goal, missing 25 consecutive shots during that span. The final margin of 12 was deceiving as the Spurs entered the final period trailing 75-49. Jay Humphries was the big gun for the Jazz, finishing with 25 points off the bench, and Karl Malone had 23 points and 14 rebounds. The Spurs had just four players in double-figures, led by Negele Knight's 16 points. Dennis Rodman had 14 points and a game-high 17 rebounds.

GAME THREE 5/3 at Utah Jazz 105-72

The big news for game three was off the court, as Dennis Rodman was suspended for the contest for his actions in game two. Without Rodman, the Spurs were flat all night. They were down 46-32 at halftime and then trailed 78-48 after three quarters. Only two Spurs scored in double-figures - both David Robinson and Antoine Carr finished with 16 points - and as a team, the Spurs shot just 31.8 percent from the field. Karl Malone led the Jazz with 24 points and 13 rebounds while John Stockton had 13 points and 12 rebounds. The Spurs set a pair franchise record lows, the fewest points scored in a playoff game and the lowest field goal percentage in a playoff game.

GAME FOUR 5/5 at Utah Jazz 95-90

Game four was the most exciting game of the series. The teams were tied 26-26 at the end of the first quarter and then 56-56 at the half. Both teams took turns holding small leads in the second half and with just over eight minutes left in the game the Spurs had a 76-71 lead. The Jazz then went on an 8-0 run over the next three minutes to take a 79-76 advantage with 5:14 left. With just seconds left in the game, and the Jazz clinging to a 3-point lead, David Benoit picked off a Negele Knight pass and took it the other way for a break-away dunk to seal the win and end the season for the Spurs. David Robinson led the Spurs with 27 points and 12 rebounds while Dennis Rodman finished with 9 points and 20 boards. Karl Malone paced the Jazz with 34 points and 12 rebounds and John Stockton had 13 points to go with 18 assists.

KEY DATES IN SAN ANTONIO SPURS HISTORY

OCTOBER 10, 1973

In the first game in San Antonio history, the Spurs fell to the San Diego Conquistadors 121-106 in the HemisFair Arena . . . Rich Jones led the Spurs in scoring with 25 points . . . the Spurs lost their first four games before claiming their first win on 10/16/73 when they beat the Virginia Squires, 116-106.

JANUARY 30, 1974

After a month of fighting, Angelo Drossos pulled off the biggest deal in Spurs history, purchasing George Gervin from the Virginia Squires . . . the transaction wasn't a simple one due to legal battles between the Spurs, the Squires and the ABA League Office . . . in fact, at one point, the 21-year-old Gervin went into hiding for a week as the three parties battled it out . . . in the end Drossos and the Spurs won, and the rest, as they say, is history.

JANUARY 28, 1975

On this date the city of San Antonio hosted the 1975 ABA All-Star Game . . . on the West squad were three Spurs, George Gervin, James Silas and Swen Nater . . . but the East team dominated the game, posting a 151-124 win in front of 10,449 in the HemisFair Arena . . . the coaches that night are both now in the NBA, Kevin Loughery led the East while Larry Brown directed the West.

OCTOBER 22, 1976

Billy Paultz paced the Spurs with 27 points . . . later in the week, on 10/27/76, the Spurs played their first NBA game in the HemisFair Arena, beating Phoenix 115-106 behind a 41-point effort by Larry Kenon . . . the Spurs finished their first NBA season with a 44-38 record and a trip to the playoffs . . . also making his NBA debut that night was Julius Erving of the Sixers.

APRIL 9, 1978

George Gervin set an NBA record scoring 33 points in the second quarter as the Spurs fell to New Orleans 153-132 in the final game of the regular season . . . earlier in the day David Thompson had scored 73 points and entering the game Gervin knew that he needed to score 58 points to edge out Thompson for the 1978 NBA scoring title . . . Gervin came through . . . he had 53 at halftime and finished the game with 63 points - despite sitting out the fourth quarter - to claim his first scoring title.

APRIL 15, 1983

Spurs announced their All Decade Team . . . on the squad were George Gervin, Artis Gilmore, Mike Mitchell, James Silas and Mark Olberding . . . the Iceman was named the Spurs Player of the Decade . . . the same night Artis Gilmore scored his 20,000th career point.

FEBRUARY 28, 1984

The Spurs retired the number 13 worn by James Silas . . . it was the first number ever retired by the Spurs franchise and Silas earned the honor . . . in his career he appeared in 618 games, scoring 10,290 points and handing out 2,406 assists . . . Silas - who was an original Spur - enjoyed his best season in 1975-76 when he averaged 23.8 points, 5.4 assists and 4.0 rebounds . . . his career was cut short by a knee injury that he suffered in November of 1976.

KEY DATES IN HISTORY

On this night the Spurs retired the number 44 jersey worn by George Gervin . . . 15,786 were on hand to pay tribute to the greatest player in Spurs history . . . in his 12 seasons with the Spurs, the Iceman scored 23,602 points and led the NBA in scoring four times.

MAY 27, 1988

Red McCombs purchased the Spurs for $47 million, becoming the first principal owner of the franchise . . . the transaction took place after months of negotiations between McCombs and the Spurs original majority owner, Angelo Drossos.

NOVEMBER 4, 1989

In his first NBA game rookie center David Robinson led the Spurs to a 106-98 win over the Lakers in front of a crowd of 15,868 in the HemisFair Arena . . . Robinson didn't miss a beat despite the fact that he had spent the two previous years serving as a Navy ensign, stationed at King's Bay, GA . . . the Admiral finished the game with 23 points and 17 rebounds.

FEBRUARY 6, 1990

The Spurs beat the Atlanta Hawks 105-94 to claim their 20th consecutive win in the HemisFair Arena . . . the 20-game home winning streak is still the longest in franchise history . . . the Spurs finished the season with a franchise-best 56-26 record, including a 34-7 mark in the Arena.

MARCH 26, 1993

On this date a group of 22 investors purchased the franchise from Red McCombs for $75 million . . . the two leaders of the group were Bob Coleman and Robert McDermott . . . the original deal was struck on 2/19/93 between the group and McCombs, then a month later the move - with some minor changes - was approved by the NBA League Office.

MAY 20, 1993

The end of an era . . . after calling the HemisFair Arena home for 20 years the Spurs played their final game in the Arena falling to the Suns 102-100 in Game 6 of their Western Conference Semifinal . . . in those 20 seasons, the Spurs played 893 regular season and playoff games in the Arena, attracting 9,384,395 fans.

SEASON RECAP: The Dallas Chaparrals of the American Basketball Association moved to San Antonio in the summer of 1973 and were renamed the San Antonio Spurs . . . A group of San Antonio businessmen underwrote the team with the newly-formed Professional Sports, Inc. . . .The group was led by Chairman of the Board John Schaefer, President B.J. "Red" McCombs, Vice President Art Burdick and Secretary-Treasurer Angelo Drossos . . . The first Spurs game played in San Antonio was on 10/10 before 5,879 fans in the HemisFair Arena . . . The Spurs - with a starting lineup of Rich Jones, Goo Kennedy, Bob Netolicky, Joe Hamilton and James Silas - lost to the San Diego Conquistadors 121-106 . . . The fan support early on was low as evidenced by a crowd of just 1,799 on 10/18 that witnessed the first win in San Antonio, a 116-106 defeat of Virginia thanks to Coby Dietrick's 24 point and 15 rebound performance . . . After a 1-6 start under coach Tom Nissalke - who was named the ABA Coach of the Year after leading the Chaparrals to the playoffs in 1971-72 - the Spurs finished their opening month in San Antonio with a 6-8 record . . . In November, the Spurs acquired Swen Nater from Virginia for $300,000 cash and a draft choice, in the first of two major deals that the Spurs pulled off in their first season . . . A turning point in the season occurred on 11/28 as the Spurs defeated Kentucky, with Nater in the lineup, before a sellout crowd of 10,146, the first of six sellouts during the initial San Antonio season . . . The 104-99 victory pushed the team above .500 for the first time at 13-12 . . . Nater and teammate Rich Jones were both named to the ABA All-Star team . . . And Nater became the first Spur to appear in an All-Star game, finishing with 29 points and 22 rebounds in the classic . . . But the biggest move of the year came on 1/30 when the Spurs obtained 21-year old forward George Gervin from Virginia in exchange for cash . . . The ABA Commissioner's Office raised questions concerning the trade of Gervin to San Antonio, stalling his arrival to the Alamo City . . . After a month of legal battles, Gervin joined the Spurs in mid-February with a slam-dunk as his first basket in a San Antonio uniform . . . The move was beneficial immediately as Gervin led the team in scoring with 19.4 ppg over the final 25 games . . . The Spurs won 12 of their final 18 games and finished the season in third place in the Western Division with a 45-39 mark . . . Paired against Indiana in the first round of the playoffs, the Spurs lost in an exciting seven-game series that featured three sellouts in the HemisFair Arena . . . Nater was named ABA Rookie of the Year by the league. The Sporting News and Basketball Weekly . . . he led the ABA in field goal percentage, with a .553 mark, and was fourth in the league in rebounding, averaging 12.6 rpg . . . Gervin finished fourth in the ABA in scoring — at 23.4 ppg — and was among the top-ten in the league in both rebounds and blocks.

SEASON RECAP: Prior to their third season, the Spurs made some major roster changes . . . In June, the Spurs dealt All-Star center Swen Nater to the New York Nets for Larry Kenon, the ABA's fourth-best rebounder in 1974-75 . . . Later in the month, guard Mike Gale, whose contract was purchased from the Nets, came to the Spurs in a deal related to the Nater-Kenon trade . . . In September, center Billy Paultz also came over from the Nets in exchange for four Spurs – Bobby Warren, Kim Hughes, Rich Jones and Chuck Terry . . . The pre-season trades proved beneficial as both Kenon and Paultz averaged double-figure scoring for the Spurs (18.7 ppg for Kenon and 16.5 ppg for Paultz) and combined to lead the team in rebounding 70 times during 1975-76 campaign . . . A 3-2 October - highlighted by an opening night crowd of over 10,000 who witnessed a 131-111 victory over New York - started a season in which the Spurs didn't suffer a single losing month . . . A then-record crowd of 11,717 watched a 112-109 loss to New York on 11/15 . . . Overall, the Spurs went 10-7 for the month of November . . . Mark Olberding, the Spurs' first round draft pick in August, returned to San Antonio in November in the ABA Dispersal Draft after the San Diego Sails franchise went under . . . Four Spurs - Gervin, Kenon, Paultz and Silas - were named to the ABA All-Star game in January . . . On 2/8, the Spurs defeated Virginia in the first afternoon game in San Antonio thanks to a 32-point effort by Gervin . . . A 135-122 win at Denver on 3/24, before a season-high 16,842, was one of 20 road wins for the Spurs . . . By winning seven of eight games to finish the season, the Spurs finished third in the ABA setting up a playoff appearance against New York . . . James Silas, the Spurs' leading scorer at 23.8 ppg, was lost for the remainder of the playoffs after breaking his ankle in the first game against the Nets . . . Backup Mike Gale took over at guard to score 14.7 ppg and distribute seven assists a contest . . . But despite the efforts of Gale and 27.1 ppg from Gervin, the Nets took the playoff series in seven games . . . The Spurs were second in the ABA in attendance averaging 8,003 per game . . . After the season ended, Doug Moe came to San Antonio from Denver to coach the Spurs and Bob Bass was moved into the front office, serving as Assistant to club President Angelo Drossos.

The Spurs jumped out to a 2-0 series lead over Philadelphia in the first round of the playoffs at home . . . Eventually, they clinched the first-ever playoff series victory in club history on 5/2 with a 111-108 win in the Arena in the seventh and deciding game of the series . . . The Spurs won the opening game of the Eastern Conference Finals in Washington with a 118-97 upset as Gervin scored 34 points and Kenon grabbed 21 rebounds . . . The final three games were all heartbreakers for the Spurs as they were decided by a total of just 14 points . . . Gervin was the first guard to win back-to-back scoring titles with an average of 29.6 ppg, helping the Spurs win the NBA scoring title with 119.3 ppg . . . SEASON RECAP: The Spurs improved over the summer of 1980 in four major areas . . . First, filling the coaching vacancy, Stan Albeck was hired as the fourth coach in Spurs history . . . Second, George Gervin's contract demands were met calling for a unique incentive plan . . . Third, looking to improve through the draft, the Spurs selected Reggie Johnson out of Tennessee and Michael Wiley of Long Beach State . . . And finally, to add experience and size, the Spurs acquired a pair of centers, George Johnson via free agency and Dave Corzine in a trade with Washington for two second round draft picks . . . The moves were profitable, as the Spurs jumped off to a 10-2 start . . . It included an eight game winning streak that propelled the Spurs to the top spot in the Midwest Division . . . First-round pick Reggie Johnson took over a starting position at forward on 12/9 on his way to a second team All-Rookie selection . . . Johnson started the next 53 games, in which the Spurs went 34-19 . . . The Spurs obtained Ron Brewer from Portland for Mike Gale on 12/19 . . . The "Bruise Brothers" - made up of George Johnson, Dave Corzine, Kevin Restani, Paul Griffin, Mark Olberding and Reggie Johnson - were born on 12/30 as 10,000 free posters were given out to fans in the Arena . . . An automobile accident on 1/28 sidelined Kevin Restani for 16 games . . . With George Gervin's new contract - which called for an incentive bonus clause for each win over 35 and up to 56 as well as a cash bonus to every player on the roster - as motivation, the Spurs collected their 35th victory of the season over Denver, 135-132, on 2/4 . . . George Johnson - who won the Blocked Shots Title with 3.39 blocks per contest - set three Spurs single game records on 2/24 in a 131-124 win over Golden State, rejecting 13 shots, including six in the fourth quarter and a total of 11 in the second half . . . The club won 17 straight home games that helped the squad to a 52-30 overall record, tying a club record for wins . . . Claiming the Midwest Division title, the Spurs were not even challenged by Houston and Kansas City, the closest rivals in the division, as both finished 12 games behind the Spurs . . . The Spurs were especially impressive at home posting a 34-7 overall record, the fourth-best mark in the league, in the HemisFair Arena before an average of 10,747 fans . . . The Rockets knocked the Spurs out in seven games in the second round with the benefit of three home losses by the Spurs . . . Gervin finished third in the scoring race with 27.1 ppg . . . George Johnson won the NBA Blocked Shots Title and was named to the All-Defensive Second Team . . . Stan Albeck was named The Sporting News Coach of the Year . . . The Spurs posted a perfect 5-0 record in overtime games during the year.

SEASON RECAP: James Silas, the team captain and last remaining original Spur, was traded to Cleveland in June along with the draft rights to Rich Yonakor for cash and a second round pick in 1982 . . . The trade ended nine years of service to the franchise for Silas, who is one of only two Spurs to have their jerseys retired . . . Gene Banks, of Duke, and Ed Rains, of South Alabama, were both selected by the Spurs in the 1981 NBA Draft and both made the squad . . . A quick 9-1 start placed the Spurs on top of the Midwest Division, a position they held all season . . . Gervin missed three games in early November and his replacement in the lineup, Ron Brewer, scored consecutive career highs of 39, 40 and 44 respectively, in wins over Cleveland (128-102), New York (103-96) and Los Angeles (128-102) . . . He earned NBA Player of the Week honors for his performance . . . The Brewer-led wins started a string of seven consecutive victories . . . Gervin returned in the fourth game of the streak on 11/13, scoring 47 points in a 119-112 win at Seattle . . . SEASON RECAP: The highlight of the off-season involved the sending of Mark Olberding, a six-year Spur, and Dave Corzine to Chicago for Artis Gilmore . . . And the trade worked as the 7-2, 265-pound center was named an NBA All-Star - for the fifth-time in his career - during his initial season in San Antonio . . . After a 1-6 pre-season, the Spurs started the regular season with a 6-1 mark . . . Scoring 24 points on 11/13 against Seattle, Gervin passed the 20,000 point milestone for his career . . . On 11/30, the Spurs protested a defeat at the hands of the Lakers citing a rules violation and were awarded a replay of the final three seconds . . . The game was finished in April with the Spurs winning the five-month-old game 117-114 in Los Angeles . . . The Spurs had consecutive 9-6 marks in both December and January . . . During February, the Spurs set an NBA record on 2/8 with their 11th consecutive overtime victory, defeating Detroit 147-143 in one extra period . . . The overtime streak started during the 1979-80 season and eventually ended in New York on 4/8 with a 102-100 loss . . . Both Gervin and Gilmore were selected to the All-Star Game in Los Angeles on 2/13 . . . In early March, Mike Mitchell missed two games, breaking his string of 363 consecutive games and 312 consecutive starts . . . Gene Banks had a perfect night on 3/12, hitting on 10-10 shots from the field and going 1-1 from the line as the Spurs dropped the Warriors, 131-120 . . . A win over Kansas City on 4/5 secured the Spurs fifth Midwest Division crown with Mitchell and Gervin sharing scoring honors with 21 points each in the 130-113 victory . . . On 4/15, the Spurs announced their All-Decade team, made up of George Gervin, James Silas, Artis Gilmore, Mike Mitchell and Mark Olberding . . . With Gervin, Mitchell and Gilmore in the lineup that night, the Spurs defeated Utah 121-118 . . . Overall, the Spurs won 14 of their final 18 games heading into the playoffs . . . Continuing their roll, the Spurs beat Denver 152-133 on 4/26 in the opening game of their Western Conference Semifinals series . . . The 285 combined points stands today as an NBA Playoff record for two teams and the Spurs 152 points that night still stands as a club record . . . The Spurs took a 3-0 series lead before clinching the fifth game in San Antonio with a 40-point margin of victory, 145-105, the largest playoff winning margin in team history . . . In the Western Conference Finals, the Lakers defeated the Spurs 4-2 by taking three games in San Antonio . . . Mike Dunleavy, who signed as free agent in the beginning of the season, led the NBA in three-point shooting with a .345 (67-194) mark from three-point land . . . Gilmore led the league in field goal percentage shooting .626 from the field during his first Spurs campaign.

SEASON RECAP: Alvin Robertson - a member of the 1984 U.S. Olympic team that won the gold medal - was the Spurs first round selection and highlighted a busy draft day in which the Spurs had 10 draft choices . . . John Lucas was traded in October to Houston for James Bailey after the Spurs matched an offer to Lucas by the Rockets . . . Behind the 32 points of George Gervin, the Spurs beat the Lakers 113-112 on opening night and started the season a perfect 3-0 . . . New coach Cotton Fitzsimmons led the team to a 5-1 start before struggling with a seven-game losing streak that included three losses at home . . . The team never recovered from the losing streak and remained at the .500 level all season . . . Mike Mitchell scored 26 vs. Cleveland on 11/10 to surpass 10,000 points for his career . . . A rare occurrence happened on 11/14 as Gervin only scored three points against Washington with no field goals . . . December was a trading month for the Spurs as four deals were made in a span of 10 days . . . First, Billy Knight arrived from Kansas City in exchange for Mark McNamara . . . Second, Jeff Cook was obtained from Cleveland for Edgar Jones and cash . . . Third, Mark Iavaroni came over from Philadelphia for a draft choice . . . And finally, Fred Roberts was traded to Utah for a pair of second round picks . . . The three players obtained would go on to play 163 games for the season, averaging a combined 16.7 points and 12.5 rebounds . . . January was the first winning month for the Spurs at 8-5 . . . One of the victories was a 139-94 blowout of Golden State on 1/8 in which Johnny Moore just missed a quadruple-double finishing with 26 points, 13 assists, 11 rebounds and nine steals in 36 minutes . . . Gervin was named to the All-Star Team for the 12th straight time, making his seventh start, scoring 23 points in the game on 2/10 . . . Later in the month, at Phoenix on 2/22, Gervin passed the 25,000 point milestone for his career with 32 in a 118-111 win over the Suns . . . The Spurs posted their second winning month at 10-7 in March and finished 3-3 in April to clinch their 11th playoff spot in 12 San Antonio years . . . Gervin missed the final seven games due to a sprained ankle and household burns . . . First-round pick Robertson, who averaged 9.2 ppg in his initial season, was also lost for the final three games and missed the playoffs with a broken bone in his foot . . . The Spurs finished fourth in the Midwest Division at 41-41, eleven games behind Denver . . . The Nuggets defeated the Spurs in the First Round of the Playoffs 3-2 . . . Mike Mitchell led the team in scoring at 22.2 ppg, breaking a string of eight consecutive seasons that George Gervin had led the club . . . Gervin averaged 21.2 ppg . . . Guard Johnny Moore established a Spurs season record by distributing 816 assists . . . An off-season controversy, which started immediately following the season, concerned where the Spurs would play in the 1985-86 season, either the Arena or the Freeman Coliseum.

SEASON RECAP: The Spurs stayed in the HemisFair Arena despite the off-season discussions with Freeman Coliseum . . . Gene Banks was dealt to Chicago on 6/18 for Steve Johnson and Jon Sundvold came to the Spurs in a deal on 10/23 from Seattle . . . Then, prior to the opener, George Gervin – the most popular player in Spurs history – was traded to Chicago for David Greenwood on 10/24 sending a shock to the Spurs fans . . . The club announced the retirement of Gervin's jersey No. 44 at the completion of his career . . . The team went 10-5 in December including a five-game winning streak for a 19-13 overall mark . . . The development of Alvin Robertson continued as he was named the NBA Player of the Week on 12/16 and then two weeks later he was named the NBA Player of the Month . . . Tragedy struck the Spurs family in December as Johnny Moore was hospitalized with Desert Fever on 12/26 . . . The rare sickness kept Moore out the rest of the season and, in effect, ended his career years early . . . After contracting the disease Moore played in just 112 games with the Spurs and never regained the form he had before the sickness . . . With a 6-10 record in January, the Spurs suffered four consecutive losing months to end the season . . . Alvin Robertson recorded the second-ever quadruple double in NBA history on 2/18 with 20 points, 11 rebounds, 10 assists and 10 steals as the Spurs beat the Suns, 120-114 . . . February and March saw the Spurs lose 12 of 13 from 2/20 to 3/4 . . . The Spurs had a 3-13 overall record in March, finishing with what was at the time, the worst record in history, 35-47 . . . The Spurs still made the playoffs, losing three straight to the Lakers . . . Cotton Fitzsimmons was fired at the completion of the season . . . Dallas assistant coach Bob Weiss was named his replacement . . . One bright spot was Robertson . . . The second-year guard was an All-Star, the NBA Defensive Player of the Year, the NBA Most Improved Player and was named to the All-NBA Second Team . . . In addition he set an NBA record for the most steals in a single season with 301 and set an NBA mark for the highest steals-per-game average with 3.67 per contest . . . Joining Robertson on the All-Star Team was Artis Gilmore.

SEASON RECAP: The 1986 NBA Draft brought in Duke guard Johnny Dawkins, who made an immediate impact with the team, appearing in 81 games in his rookie season . . . Then on 6/20 the Spurs sent Steve Johnson to Portland in exchange for Mychal Thompson and the draft rights to Larry Krystkowiak . . . But there weren't many bright spots for the Spurs . . . The team opened the campaign with 10 of their first 15 games on the road . . . In that span the Spurs posted a 5-10 mark including a 2-8 record on the road . . . The 5 millionth fan entered the HemisFair Arena on 11/13 and witnessed the 600th franchise victory by the Spurs . . . Alvin Robertson was named the NBA Player of the Week for the period ending 11/23, after averaging 32.7 ppg in a pair of games during the week . . . A 3-12 mark in December was one short of the all-time worst month in Spurs history, leaving the team at 8-23 . . . Mike Mitchell (knee surgery) and Ed Nealy both missed games during the month . . . Rookie center Kevin Duckworth was then traded to Portland for Walter Berry for some added help on 12/18 . . . Berry played in 56 games for the Spurs during the season, averaging 17.6 ppg to finish second on the team in scoring behind Robertson's 17.7 . . . Going 7-7 in the month of January, the team won seven straight heading into the All-Star Game . . . Robertson was voted to his second consecutive starting role for the West squad and scored six points in the West's 154-149 overtime win . . . Following the break, the Spurs lost seven of the next eight games . . . On 2/13, Mychal Thompson was sent to the Los Angeles Lakers for Frank Brickowski and Petur Gudmundsson - who was injured and did not play during the season - and draft picks . . . Brickowski played in seven games before going on the injured list the rest of the season . . . A 10-game losing streak at the end of the season led to a final record of 28-56 and a last-place finish in the division, 27 games behind Utah . . . The Spurs missed the playoffs for only the second time in 14 years in San Antonio . . . The 17.6 ppg by Berry were the best ever by a Spurs rookie at the time, as he scored in double figures in 49 consecutive games to end the season. . . Robertson had another big season, being named the NBA Defensive Player of the Year and leading the league in steals for the second straight season.

SEASON RECAP: The 1987 NBA Draft, which took place on 6/22, was a memorable day in Spurs history . . . The team picked 7-1 center David Robinson from the Naval Academy with the number one overall selection . . . In another big off-season move, the Spurs shipped aging center Artis Gilmore to Chicago in exchange for a second-round draft pick . . . Robinson signed a contract on 11/6 and - before entering into two years of required active service in the Navy - he watched his new team lose to the defending world champion Lakers 133-124 . . . The team opened with a 5-8 record in November thanks to a 4-1 mark at home . . . The Iceman was forever immortalized in San Antonio on 12/5 as his No. 44 jersey was retired, joining James Silas as just the second jersey retired in Spurs history . . . A perfect 7-0 record during December in the Arena gave the Spurs their best start at home (11-1) as part of an 8-4 month, ending a string of 12 consecutive losing months . . . The next two months saw the team go 9-19 and fall from the .500 ranks . . . February was highlighted by a pair of consecutive sellouts at home for the first time in club history against the Celtics and the Lakers . . . Rookie Greg "Cadillac" Anderson started to make an impact with 29 points and 20 rebounds against Golden State on 2/22, the Spurs first 20-20 game in three seasons . . . Anderson was named NBA Rookie of the Month in March after continued fine play . . . To end the month, the Spurs defeated Seattle 117-115 on the road, their first win over a playoff team on the road in two years . . . On the same night, Red McCombs made an offer to buy at least 80 percent of the franchise for $40 million . . . After going 5-8 in April, a playoff berth was earned with a fifth-place finish in the Midwest Division at 31-51 . . . But, the Lakers defeated the Spurs in three straight . . . Greg Anderson was named to the NBA All-Rookie Team, the first Spur to earn the honor . . . For the third straight season Alvin Robertson led the Spurs in scoring averaging 19.6 ppg . . . After two months of debate, McCombs made a $47 million offer to the investors for a 92 percent share of the franchise to complete the first major ownership change in 15 years in San Antonio . . . Another management move saw Larry Brown take over as coach in June for Bob Weiss, who was fired.

SEASON RECAP: A new owner, in Red McCombs, a new coach, in Larry Brown, and a remodeled front office, led by Gary Woods and Russ Bookbinder, highlighted a season of change for the Spurs . . . Willie Anderson was taken on 6/28 in the first round of the 1988 NBA Draft by the Spurs with the 10th overall selection and Vernon Maxwell, Albert King and Dallas Comegys were acquired in off-season moves . . . Maxwell was obtained from Denver in a draft day trade . . . King came over from Philadelphia on 8/24 for Pete Myers and then five days later Comegys was acquired from New Jersey for Walter Berry . . . The Spurs started the season with a 5-8 month in November . . . But after that things got tough for the Spurs, as they would win just 16 games the rest of the season . . . The Spurs sent their second round pick, Shelton Jones, to Golden State on 11/22 for Jerome Whitehead . . . On 12/8, the 1,000th game was played in the HemisFair Arena, a 105-95 loss to Cleveland . . . Johnny Dawkins was shooting over 90 percent from the line to lead the league, but went down with a nerve problem in his left leg and was placed on the injured list on 1/30, missing 51 of the next 59 games . . . Injuries also knocked out Alvin Robertson and Frank Brickowski during the season . . . A string of 10 losses in 11 games contributed to a 1-12 month in February, setting a mark for the worst month in franchise history . . . In March, the team lost its 20th straight road game and then lost a string of eight in a row to end the season at 21-61 . . . The record was the worst in franchise history and the Spurs finished in fifth-place in the Midwest, 30 games behind the division champion Utah Jazz . . . In all a franchise-record 22 players saw action for the Spurs . . . Rookie Willie Anderson was the one bright spot for the Spurs . . . He was named Rookie of the Month in November and earned a spot on the NBA All-Rookie team . . . In addition he was the runner-up in voting for the NBA Rookie of the Year, finishing behind Mitch Richmond . . . Anderson led the Spurs in scoring with 18.6 points per contest, becoming the first Spurs rookie ever to accomplish the feat.

SEASON RECAP: The 1989-90 season was one of the most exciting in Spurs history . . . On 5/19, David Robinson ended his two-year tour of duty with the Navy . . . Then, nine days later - in one of the biggest trades in franchise history - the Spurs obtained All-Star forward Terry Cummings from Milwaukee in exchange for Alvin Robertson and Greg Anderson . . . In the 1989 NBA Draft the Spurs picked Arizona's Sean Elliott, the 1989 College Player of the Year, with the third overall selection on 6/27 . . . A second major off-season trade was made on 8/28 when the Spurs sent Johnny Dawkins and Jay Vincent to Philadelphia in exchange for Maurice Cheeks, Christian Welp and David Wingate . . . In addition, Caldwell Jones and Zarko Paspalj were signed as free agents . . . In all, nine new faces appeared on the Spurs opening night roster . . . And all the changes worked . . . In the season opener the Spurs beat the Lakers 106-98 thanks to 23 points and 17 rebounds by Robinson in his first NBA game . . . On 11/15, the Spurs snapped their club-record 22-game road losing streak beating Minnesota 86-76 . . . The Spurs finished November with an 8-5 mark, the first winning month since 1987 . . . David Robinson was named the NBA Rookie of the Month, an honor he would claim each month of the season . . . Thanks to an 11-2 record in December the Spurs took over first-place in the Midwest Division . . . More trades took place on 2/21 as Rod Strickland came to the Spurs from New York in exchange for Maurice Cheeks and Vernon Maxwell was sent to Houston for cash . . . On 2/28 at Golden State, Terry Cummings grabbed a franchise record 16 offensive rebounds during his career-high 24 rebound game . . . The Spurs showed strong play down the stretch with a 19-8 record, highlighted by a seven-game streak to end the season . . . The Spurs defeated the Nuggets on 5/1 to sweep Denver, 3-0, behind Cummings' 28 points, the first playoff sweep and 'short' series win in franchise history . . . Then in the Western Conference Semifinals the Spurs played a thrilling seven-game series with Portland, losing in overtime in the final game . . . The Spurs record of 56-26 established an NBA record for the biggest one-year turnaround in history, improving 35 games in the win column after winning just 21 games in the previous campaign. . . The 56-26 mark is the best record in franchise history.

SEASON RECAP: For the third straight summer the Spurs had a busy off-season . . . in the NBA Draft the Spurs picked three players, Dwayne Schintzius of Florida, Tony Massenburg of Maryland and Sean Higgins of Michigan — all three were on the Spurs opening day roster . . . Frank Brickowski was traded to Milwaukee for Paul Pressey on 8/1 . . . Then, Mark McNamara was sent to Orlando on 10/30 for Sidney Green . . . Terry Cummings scored 31 in an opening night win over the Lakers, the first of 40 sellouts in the HemisFair Arena during the year . . . The first month ended as the Lakers handed the Spurs a 17-point defeat for an 8-4 slate in Nov. . . . An 11-2 record in December was helped by six consecutive road wins that were part of the season-best eight-game winning streak . . . A five-game win streak left the Spurs at 31-11 midway through the season . . . The team was slowed by an injury to guard Rod Strickland, who missed 21 games due to a hand injury . . . During his absence, the team went 10-11 . . . The Spurs went 10-5 when he returned to the lineup . . . On 2/10, David Robinson started for the West All-Star squad at center, receiving almost 700,000 votes as the top vote getter in the Western Conference . . . He scored 16 points in 18 minutes of action . . . On 2/26 the Spurs claimed their 1,000th win in franchise history as they edged Portland 102-101 in overtime . . . February was the only overall losing month for the Spurs at 4-7 . . . The team rebounded and posted a perfect 9-0 record at home in March . . . Terry Cummings scored his 15,000 career point against Chicago on 4/5 . . . The final record of 55-27 edged Utah by a game for the Midwest Division title . . . Willie Anderson scored 38 points, and Robinson and Strickland each had 30, as the Spurs beat Golden State 130-121 in the opening game of the 1991 Playoffs . . . But, the young Warriors squad won the next three games to steal the series 3-1 . . . The Spurs dominated play against Midwest foes, winning 21 of a possible 29 and also took a total of 19 wins in 26 starts against Eastern Division teams . . . David Robinson won several post-season honors including the Schick Award, a spot on the All-NBA First team and a place on the All-Defensive team . . . Robinson also became the first Spur to ever lead the NBA in rebounding.

SEASON RECAP: The Spurs pulled off a lopsided trade on 9/23 sending second-year center Dwayne Schintzius to Sacramento in exchange for forward Antoine Carr . . . Thanks to an 8-0 start at home the Spurs cruised to a 10-3 mark in November . . . On 12/6, the Jazz ended the Spurs home win streak at eight with a 93-92 victory in front of a TNT national audience . . . A five-game losing streak that started in December was ended by David Robinson's 35- point and 14- rebound performance vs. Minnesota on 12/11 . . . In early December the Spurs signed two free agents, Donald Royal and Vinnie Johnson . . . Then on 12/17 the Spurs waived two popular players, Avery Johnson and Jud Buechler . . . After missing the first six weeks of the season due to a contract dispute, restricted free agent Rod Strickland joined the squad on 12/23 for a game against the Clippers after signing a contract . . . With the team struggling through December and January, Larry Brown asked to be terminated as Head Coach on 1/21 . . . Vice President of Basketball Operations Bob Bass took over as Head Coach for the fourth time during his tenure with the Spurs organization . . . Bass led the Spurs to a 26-18 record to conclude the season . . . On 3/21 in a 101-96 win over Seattle in the Arena, David Robinson recorded five blocks and passed George Gervin to become the Spurs all-time blocked shots leader . . . The Spurs were hurt by a pair of key injuries . . . Willie Anderson and David Robinson missed a combined 39 games late in the season . . . Anderson went down on 1/19 with a stress fracture in his left tibia, while Robinson was placed on the injured list on 4/1 after having surgery for a torn ligament in his left hand . . . The Spurs struggled without Robinson in the lineup, losing nine of the 14 games that the Admiral missed . . . The final 47-35 record - which was good for a second-place finish in the Midwest Division behind the Jazz - set up a first round playoff series with the Phoenix Suns . . . Terry Cummings had a big post-season effort for the Spurs but, without Robinson and Anderson in the lineup, the Suns dropped the Spurs in three straight games . . . On 4/15 the Spurs hired Jerry Tarkanian as the Head Coach starting in the 1992-93 season . . . Despite missing the final 14 games of the season, Robinson was named the NBA Defensive Player of the Year and was the center on the All-NBA First Team.

SEASON RECAP: Their were a lot of memorable moments, and a lot of ups an downs, for the Spurs during the 1992-93 season . . . Under new Head Coach Jerry Tarkanian, the Spurs started the season 1-4 . . . The team signed point guard Avery Johnson on 11/19 . . . Then on 12/9 the Spurs sent Sidney Green, a first round draft pick and a second round draft pick to Charlotte in exchange for J.R. Reid . . . But the moves weren't enough to help the struggling Spurs . . . On 12/18 – with the team posting a 9-11 record – Tarkanian was fired . . . John Lucas replaced him and quickly turned the team around . . . Following the move the Spurs won 24 of their next 28 games . . . The Spurs were close to perfect in the month of January, posting a 12-2 mark in the middle of the 28-game run . . . The streak was highlighted by a franchise-record 10 game winning streak that ran from 1/7 to 1/27 . . . For the effect Lucas was named the NBA Coach of the Month for January . . . On 1/16 David Robinson scored 52 points as the Spurs beat the Hornets and for the month he averaged 24.4 points, 12.9 rebounds and 4.36 blocks . . . Both Sean Elliott and David Robinson were named to the Western Conference All-Star Team, with Elliott making the first All-Star appearance of his NBA career . . . After the All-Star break the Spurs lost some steam . . . They were 8-8 in March and just 6-7 in April . . . But in the post-season, the Spurs once again got hot . . . the fifth seeded Spurs knocked off the fourth seeded Trail Blazers in the first round of the playoffs to set-up a showdown with the Suns in the Western Conference Semifinals . . . The Suns won the exciting series 4-2 . . . Game Six of the series was painful to Spurs fans as the 102-100 loss was the team's final game in the HemisFair Arena - The Spurs home since they moved to San Antonio in the summer of 1973.

DID YOU KNOW?

February 17, 1994 the Spurs had one of the more memorable nights in franchise history vs. Detroit . . . David Robinson became just the fourth player in NBA history to record a quadruple-double when he scored 34 points, grabbed 10 rebounds, blocked 10 shots and handed out 10 assists . . . Also, the Spurs set a franchise record by winning their 11th game in a row that night, and would go on to win two more before the streak ended.

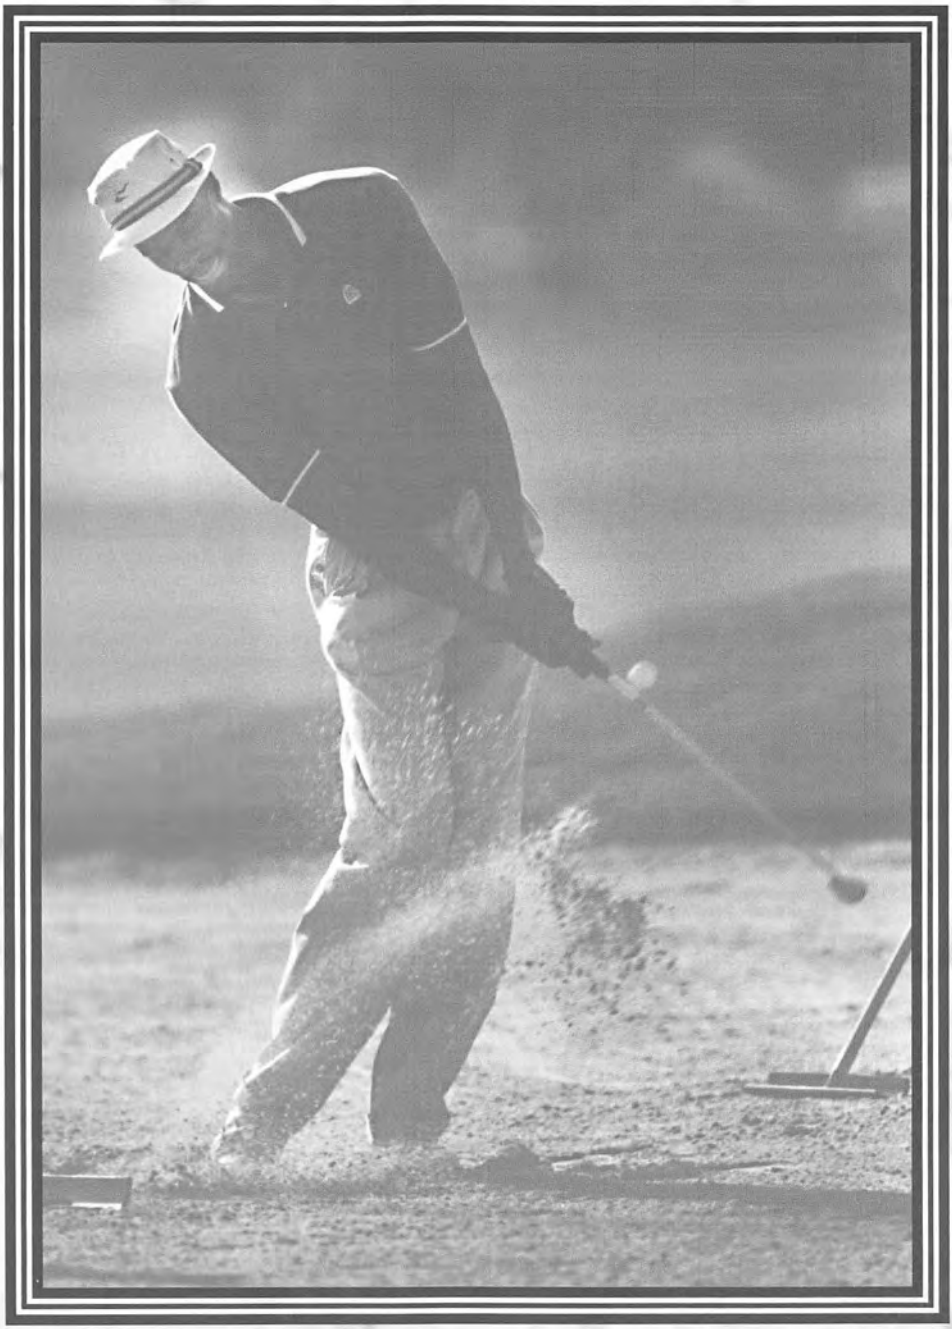
SPURS IN THE COMMUNITY



THE SPURS FOUNDATION

Created in 1988, the non-profit 501(c)(3) Spurs Foundation was established to generate goodwill and financial support for a variety of children's charities in South Texas. In 1993-94, the Spurs Foundation raised and donated more than $300,000 via charitable grants, scholarships, recreational and educational youth programs, charity tickets and Spurs memorabilia. During the past six years, over one million dollars has been donated to deserving children through organizations which provide for basic, recreational and medical needs.

Each year the Spurs Foundation's Board of Directors selects non-profit children's organizations to benefit from numerous special events and fund-raisers during the season. To receive funding from the Spurs Foundation, organizations which are exempt under section 501(c)(3) of the IRS code and assist economically, emotionally and/or physically disadvantaged youth may complete grant applications which are annually reviewed by the Spurs Foundation Board of Directors. Organiza-tions requesting funding for a sports or recreational project receive preference. Applications for 1995-96 Spurs Foundation grants will be available in November 1994 with a late February 1995 applicant deadline.

The following organizations will receive both publicity and financial assistance from the Spurs Foundation during the 1994-95 season.

Alamo Children's Advocacy Center (ACAC) - The center's mission is to provide sexually abused children and their families the necessary services for a complete psychological and physical recovery. The ACAC is building a new center on the corner of West Martin and Pecos which will combine the resources of a medical school with a consortium of community agencies dealing with the intervention in and evaluation of child abuse, particularly child sexual abuse. The Spurs Foundation will help fund the cost of an interview room for a crisis intervention counselor. This room will allow the child to be in a private and safe setting as he/she reveals very hurtful and intimate details about their abuse.

Brighton School - The Brighton School is a private, non-profit program which each year provides comprehensive services to 175 children ages birth to six years old with developmental delays. Brighton is one of 30 worldwide replication sites for the model preschool program for young children with Down's Syndrome and other developmental delays and is the only replication site in the Southwestern United States. Brighton's goal is that every child develop to his/her maximum potential. Funds from the Spurs Foundation will be used to convert Brighton School's backyard into a playground and recreation area.

Children's Association for Maximum Potential (CAMP) - Established in 1979, CAMP offers residential camping, day-care, respite and rehabilitation for children with severe medical and developmental disabilities (DD) to help them lead a productive life and reach their maximum potential. Since its inception, CAMP has received several national awards including a Point of Light Award from President Bush, the Mayor's Award for Youth and the United Way's Gold P.A.C.E. Award. CAMP's new year-round respite program will provide children with opportunities for recreation while giving parents an opportunity for some time to themselves. The Spurs Foundation grant will provide over 100 families with Spurs respite scholarships. No other program in the area provides meals, shelter, one-on-one supervision, on-site nursing care and a full recreational program to children with DD and their siblings.

Family Service Association - Since 1903, Family Service Association (FSA) has been designing and implementing programs to meet the changing needs of San Antonio families. To help create strong families, FSA addresses five major social problems: dysfunctional families, child abuse, elderly isolation and dependence, juvenile crime and poverty. The Spurs Foundation will provide funding for summer recreational and sports activities for FSA's Youth Against Gang Activity (YAGA) program. The purpose of this program is to keep young people in school, off drugs and out of gangs by enhancing self-esteem and providing a positive group that channels members in positive directions. This nationally recognized program is the only teen-driven program on San Antonio's East side.

The Spurs Foundation will raise its funds in 1994-95 through three major annual events: the

THE SPURS FOUNDATION

The Spurs Foundation will raise its funds in 1994-95 through three major annual events: the Spurs Scramble Golf Tournament on October 10, the Tip-Off Luncheon on November 1 and the Spring Gala and Auction on April 1. In addition, throughout the season, special events and promotions will help raise additional charitable dollars for the Spurs Foundation and its children's charities and youth programs.

RECREATIONAL YOUTH ACTIVITIES

Spurs Drug-Free Youth Basketball League

The Spurs Drug-Free Youth Basketball League, formed in 1989, is a non-school basketball program which delivers a strong anti-drug message in addition to teaching basketball fundamentals.

A cooperative effort between the City of San Antonio Parks and Recreation Department, the YMCA and the Boys and Girls Club, the league is designed to motivate and inspire students, in the target age group of 9-16, from low-income, inner-city neighborhoods to pledge to remain drug and alcohol-free by signing an I.D. card. All participants are required to show this card and recite an anti-drug pledge before every game.

Volunteer coaches lead the January to March league with bi-weekly team practices in preparation for the weekly game.

The league consisted of 1,100 youth in its first year and has now grown in San Antonio to over 2,700 children who participated in 1993-94. The San Antonio league is sponsored by Diamond Shamrock and the Spurs Foundation who pay for uniforms and administrative costs, allowing all the youth to participate free of charge.

In February 1992, the league received national attention when President George Bush honored the Spurs Drug-Free Basketball League as the 705th Daily Point of Light. The award recognized those who successfully addressed the nation's most pressing social problems through acts of community service.

With the help of additional funding from Whataburger, the Spurs expanded the league into Corpus Christi and Austin. In 1993-94, over 1,800 youth participated in the Spurs Drug-Free League in Corpus Christi and over 500 youth played in the Austin league.

Midnite Basketball League

The Spurs Foundation is pleased to announce that 1995 will mark the third straight year of the Spurs-Pizza Hut Midnite Basketball League. The league began in January of 1993 for some 288 at-risk young men aged 17 to 25.

Following NBA rules and donning NBA style jerseys, the recreational nine week league featured a fall and winter session during the 1993-94 season and was played in west, south, north and east San Antonio sites between the hours of 11 p.m. and 2 a.m. Volunteer coaches included off-duty police officers and community leaders.

Each year, the Midnite Basketball League has successfully taken some 300 young men between the ages of 17 and 25 from lower income areas of our city off the streets and onto basketball courts offering a positive alternative to gang-related activity. Moreover, more than 100 young spectators have regularly attended the late night games at each site to rally support for their peers. The large crowds translate into an additional 300 to 400 young people off the streets on weekend nights.

Merging community and commerce, the San Antonio Spurs, the Spurs Foundation, Pizza Hut, the Kids Sports Network and the Police Athletic League are reacting to alarming gang statistics with positive recreational alternatives to deliver the message that being involved with gangs is not the right path to follow.

PROJECT GOALS AND OBJECTIVES AFFECTING LIVES

SPONSORED BY THE SAN ANTONIO SPURS AND H-E-B

PROJECT GOAL

The Project GOAL educational program, co-sponsored by H-E-B and chaired by David Robinson, annually reaches approximately 300,000 students from San Antonio area school districts as well as students in Austin, Kerrville, Seguin, San Marcos, Fredericksburg, Corpus Christi, New Braunfels and Laredo. The program's objective is to encourage students to stay in school, stay away from drugs and "be the best that you can be." Project GOAL, which takes the form of several successful programs, was presented with the Texas State Teachers Association annual Human and Civil Rights Award during their annual convention on April 29, 1994.

Mister Robinson's Neighborhood

Each season, more than 5,000 students (kindergarten through high school) are nominated by their teachers in recognition of a variety of achievements ranging from attitude and grade improvement to staying in school and remaining drug-free. A total of 1,200 students from area elementary, middle and high schools are selected and receive a pair of tickets to sit in "Mister Robinson's Neighborhood" at a Spurs game, a Mister Robinson's Neighborhood t-shirt and a certificate acknowledging their efforts. Robinson and the Spurs Foundation purchase these seats for his "Neighborhood of Achievers." During the 1993-94 season, 75 special achievers were chosen to fly to watch the Spurs April 9 game in Houston courtesy of Southwest Airlines. After the game, Robinson flew back with the students signing autographs and speaking on the importance of education.

Coyote Kids

The Coyote Kids, an educational program geared for pre-kindergarten through third grade students sponsored by H-E-B, is a troupe of six students from local colleges who emphasize the importance of self-esteem and good decision-making. The values of education, self-image, safety and health are also conveyed in their 30 minute song and dance performance.

The troupe, now in its third year, visits two area elementary schools each week. Each year, the Coyote Kids visit schools in each of San Antonio's 16 public school districts and perform for over 30,000 students. Visits are scheduled through each district's drug education coordinator. The Coyote Kids are selected each July, and each member of the group receives a $2,000 sponsorship from the Spurs Foundation.

NBA's Stay in School Program

The National Basketball Association's Stay in School program was created in 1989 to address the critical problem of dropouts. The program was designed to utilize NBA players — who are among the most recognized and respected heroes of sports — to urge students to stay in school and complete their education. Since national statistics indicate that middle school students suffer the highest dropout rates on a national basis, the program targets sixth, seventh and eighth grade students by encouraging improvements in the areas of attitude, attendance and achievement.

Through the Spurs Stay in School program, more than 110,000 middle school students throughout South Texas are reached annually.

In 1994-95, students will be encouraged via the media and Spurs broadcasts to pick up Stay in School pledge forms at area Bank of America locations. When the student signs the Stay in School pledge agreeing to graduate from high school, they will receive a full color "Stay in School" poster featuring Spurs players from their school principal's office. In addition to the San Antonio market, this program includes middle school students in Austin, San Marcos, Corpus Christi, New Braunfels, Kerrville, Seguin, Fredericksburg and Laredo.

The 1993-94 Stay in School program culminated on February 19 with a JAMboree in the Alamodome before a crowd of over 15,000 students. Tickets to the JAMboree were distributed through the middle schools to deserving students who pledged to stay in school.

This year's JAMboree will be held on March 18 in the Alamodome featuring Stay in School messages from the Spurs team as well as national recording artists.

When San Antonio hosts the 1996 NBA All-Star game, middle school students will be eligible to attend an All-Star Stay in School Celebration. This event will include NBA All-Stars, celebrities from music and television and other exciting entertainment.

Teacher Recognition Program

The Spurs recognize the important role teachers play in the lives of children and are pleased to publicly applaud those whose efforts go above and beyond the call of duty for their students. The 1994-95 season is the third year of the Spurs Teacher Recognition Program. Through a partnership with the San Antonio Toyota Dealers Association, Vinny Del Negro and the Spurs Foundation, outstanding teachers in South Texas schools will again be recognized for their achievements in the classroom.

One teacher and a guest will be invited to and recognized at each Spurs home game where they meet Del Negro, are featured on the Jumbotron scoreboard and receive an 8' x 10' photo and a plaque acknowledging teaching excellence in the school system.

Spurs Foundation Scholarships

The Spurs Foundation is pleased to offer scholarship funding to graduating high school seniors and current college students in the Spurs market area who exhibit good grades, leadership and involvement in extracurricular activities.

Through the Bank of America-Spurs Foundation Scholarship program, 12 Bexar County high school seniors receive $1,000 scholarships toward their freshman tuition at the college of their choice. Each scholarship winner is selected based on academic excellence, motivation to succeed, outstanding recommendations and community orientation.

The Spurs Foundation also awards the members of the Spurs elementary school program, the Coyote Kids, a $2,000 scholarship.

During the 1994-95 season the Spurs Foundation will introduce an additional scholarship program. Through the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation, the Foundation will fund two $500 scholarships to South Texas students who have competed in one of the University Interscholastic League Academic State Meet contests.

Spurs-Fannie Mae Form "Home Team"

During the 1993-94 season, the Spurs and Fannie Mae (Federal National Mortgage Association) teamed up to form "San Antonio's Home Team." This on-going partnership was created to help revitalize neighborhoods with special needs in San Antonio through the construction of new homes and the rehabilitation of existing homes, and to increase home ownership opportunities for lower income families in South Texas.

To this end, last season the partnership worked together on a free, bilingual Home Buying Fair, the construction of two new homes on the city's eastside and a landscaping day.

The Spurs and Fannie Mae will continue to develop additional projects to contribute to neighborhood renewal and promote home ownership opportunities for low and moderate income families in San Antonio.

Spurs Wheelchair Basketball

The Spurs Wheelchair Basketball Team, a member of the National Wheelchair Basketball Association (NWBA), functions as a resource for rehabilitation (both physical and emotional) and competes throughout Texas and the United States. The local team is comprised of individuals ages 15 to 55 and, with few exceptions, all are employed. Through a donation from the Spurs Foundation, the team received new uniforms which they wore when they scrimmaged three times during halftime of Spurs games during the 1993-94 season. The team will also perform during halftime again this year.

Coyote Clubhouse

For each home Spurs game several hundred special Spurs fans fill the Coyote Clubhouse in Section 135. These fans are children whose wishes and dreams come true as they get to see their hometown heroes and the Spurs Coyote in person. For a donation of $2,100 or $4,150 (payable to the non-profit 501(c)(3) Spurs Foundation), a block of $10 and $17 seats will be purchased and distributed to underprivileged youth in South Texas for each Spurs home game. The donor may select the charity recipients as well.

The sponsoring company or individual will also receive front row floor seats for the game sponsored (two seats for a $2,100 donation and four seats for a $4,150 donation) as well as recognition on Jumbotron during the game and in the Spurs monthly newsletter. For more information on the Coyote Clubhouse, please contact the Spurs Community Relations Department at (210) 554-7761.

Former Spurs Stars Stay Active in the Community

One of the Spurs best backcourt combinations have reunited for the benefit of the community. George Gervin, the Spurs all-time scoring leader, and Johnny Moore, Spurs all-time assist leader, are both working full-time assisting the youth of San Antonio as Community Relations Representatives for the Spurs.

In his 12-year career with the Spurs, Gervin scored 23,602 points and holds virtually every club scoring record. In all, he holds or has tied over 40 club records, including most points in a season and career and most consecutive games in double figures. Gervin's NBA scoring average of 26.2 per game ranks ninth on the all-time list. Moore, who played with the Spurs from 1980-89, led the NBA in assists in 1981-82 with 9.6 per game and had his best year in 1984-85 when he averaged 12.8 points, 10.0 assists and 4.8 rebounds in 82 games.

For information on booking Gervin or Moore for your event, please send a written request to the Spurs Community Relations Department in care of the Appearance Coordinator at 100 Montana, San Antonio, Texas 78203. Requests should be made at least four weeks prior to the event and include all pertinent information including a map to the event site.

NBA COMMUNITY RELATIONS

The NBA, its teams, players and coaches share a commitment to supporting and improving the quality of life in their communities. Throughout the league, the NBA and its teams are involved in many worthwhile public service initiatives.

Among them is the NBA Stay in School program, a joint effort of the NBA and National Basketball Players Association, created in 1989 to address our country's critical high school drop-out problem. The NBA Stay in School program has developed from a pilot project into a national initiative stressing the importance of a high school education. Program messages focus on the three A's needed for success in school: attendance, attitude and achievement, as well as encouraging young people to develop pride and self-esteem. Each season, the Stay in School message is spread to thousands of students by NBA players and coaches through school visits, assemblies and contests, reminding them that a solid education is the foundation to a better life.

Through public service announcements on television and radio and other awareness-building programs, the NBA and its players also support the work of Second Harvest, a national food bank network; Special Olympics; Care; and the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse. In addition each year, the NBA creates public service messages honoring the work and legacy of Martin Luther King, Jr. in January and Black History Month in February.

MEDIA INFORMATION

SAN ANTONIO SPURS MEDIA SERVICES DEPARTMENT
ALAMODOME, 100 MONTANA, SAN ANTONIO, TX 78203

MEDIA SERVICES DEPARTMENT: The Spurs Media Services Department has three full-time members: Director Tom James, Coordinator Becky Salini and Intern Paul Thompson. Our direct lines and home numbers are listed below - please feel free to call us at any time with any questions. Our staff will make an effort to fill every request you may have.

CREDENTIALS: All media must obtain proper credentials to attend a Spurs game in the Alamodome. To obtain a credential please call or fax the Media Services Department at least 48 hours before a game. All passes that are not picked up in our offices can be picked up at the media gate beginning three hours before game-time. Passes allow media members access to both locker rooms, media work and hospitality rooms. Credentials will be issued only to working media and credentials must be worn and visible at all times.

MEDIA GATE: The media gate will be located in the southeast corner of the Alamodome. To find this entrance, walk down into the loading dock area in the south end of the Dome and bear to your right. You will see signs for the media entrance. At that door will be a staff member who will check-in all media and direct you on how to get to the court and media rooms.

PARKING: The media parking lot is located in the south end of the Alamodome in Parking Lot A. To get to the media parking lot, exit highway 281 south at Durango and take the turnaround. This puts you on an access road that runs along the west side of the Dome. You will see the entrance to the parking lot on your right, about 50 yards after you get on the access road. Parking in the media lot is by pass only. If you need a parking pass please contact the Media Services Department. Security will only allow those with parking passes into the lot.

MEDIA ROOMS: This season there are three different media rooms: media room A will be used as an interview room, media room B will be used as a work room and media room C will be used as a hospitality room. All three of these rooms are located on the ground floor of the Dome in the northeast corner. To get to the media rooms, exit the court through the northeast tunnel and turn left - all three rooms are located in this hallway.

GAME NIGHT SERVICES: Game notes, media guides and NBA information will be available in the media work room for each game. During the game, quarter-by-quarter boxes will be distributed and following the game, post-game quotes and final stats books will be available. We will also provide telephones, fax services and a copy machine. Please contact the Media Services Department with any special requests.

SPURS MEDIA HOTLINE: This season the Spurs Hotline will be at WOAI, which is the Spurs flagship radio station. Thanks to the move, the sound quality on the Hotline will be greatly improved. The Hotline will be updated after every game and will feature sound-bites from players and game highlights. The Hotline number is (210) 734-7787 (SPUR).
